FOREWORD

It is with pleasure that numerous consignments of choice material have been combined into this fine two-day sale.

Collectors of the U.S. series from small cents to half dollars will find material of the highest calibre offered.

For the collector of foreign coins, there are very rich series of gold coins in all denominations and choice crowns of note.

One of the outstanding specimens in this sale is a unique gold Nobel Prize Medal; this particular specimen was awarded for Literature and few collectors, if any, can boast ownership of such a rarity.

Recent interest in early American coins indicates that prices are resuming their forward movement, and many shrewd collectors are filling their gaps in this period now.

Collectors of foreign gold coins are also finding that choice specimens are becoming increasingly difficult to obtain, and that the anticipated price changes did not occur. Specimens of the quality herein offered, will be appreciated by collectors with foresight.

This sale has a wide variety of American, foreign, and medieval coins and medals, and it is the hope of the cataloger that every purchaser will derive real satisfaction from the items acquired.
